Tiny Art

" At The Water's Edge "

2025

Join us at one of our workshops to create your Tiny Art!

What is Tiny Art?

The art will be displayed in venues across Cullercoats during May, June & July, with a special display on the Festival Day, Saturday June 14th
The Tiny Art can be in any form: e.g., painting, drawing, doodling, collage, poetry, flash fiction, knitting, embroidery, altered photographs. BUT must be A7 size, in portrait orientation and most importantly, must be in keeping with the Festival's 2025 theme of " At The Water's Edge " (think seascapes, sand, marine creatures, cliffs, ships, your life at the seaside!).

Sessions are drop-in, with volunteers to help you create.
You can stay for the whole session or just do your art and go.

All ages welcome !! Children to be accompanied by adult /carer.

Tiny Art Guidelines

Theme: At the Water's Edge

Public display: May-July 2025 around Cullercoats

Anyone from children to teens to adults is welcome to contribute. If you'd like us to bring the project to one of your group's meetings or classes, please just email.

All artworks must be A7 [74 by 105 mm] in portrait layout (accompanying artist biography / description / text can be another A7 making A8 in total) and able to be displayed flat against a wall.

A7 size is an A4 sheet folded three times.

Other than food, all materials are welcome to be used in the creation of your art. Paint, stamps, pencils, crayons, fabric, thread, collage, photography, natural and other found objects can all be used. You can include poetry such as haiku, or other text. Photographs must be altered, e.g., by collage or addition of text.

Artwork and the titles of the artwork must be appropriate for all ages.
All artwork must be accompanied by a signed permissions slip (signed by a parent or teacher if from a child under 16). Permissions slips will be available at all workshops and drop-off points.

The Cullercoats Festival reserves the right to reject any art that does not follow these guidelines. If finances permit, a selection of submissions may be photographed and used in a book.

Art may be dropped off at any of our workshops, or at Cullercoats Watch House when open (look for the red box) or in an envelope marked for Cullercoats Festival through the door at Monks Haven, 56-57 Beverley Terrace.
Art may be collected afterwards – watch website and social media for details. Please mark on the back that you wish your art returned. Or add it to our collection for swaps, where artists of all ages can take home an inspirational piece from someone else, and contribute their own to the take-away. To be sure it makes into a display please submit by end of May.

Permissions slip

I give permission for the Cullercoats Festival to display my artwork in one of the venues for the exhibition. If chosen, I give permission for my artwork and accompanying text to be included in the book of the exhibition. I confirm that this art and/or writing is/are all my work.
